

ROBERT R. BOWIE, professor of international relations and director of the Center for International Affairs at Harvard, was general counsel and special advisor to the U. S. High Commissioner for Germany in 1950-51, director of the policy planning staff of the Department of State from 1953 to 1955, and Assistant Secretary of State for policy planning from 1955 to 1957. He is co-editor of "Studies in Federalism" and "Communist China, 1955-1959" and has written many articles and studies on law and international affairs.